Global Protest Data

MASS MOBILIZATION PROJECT

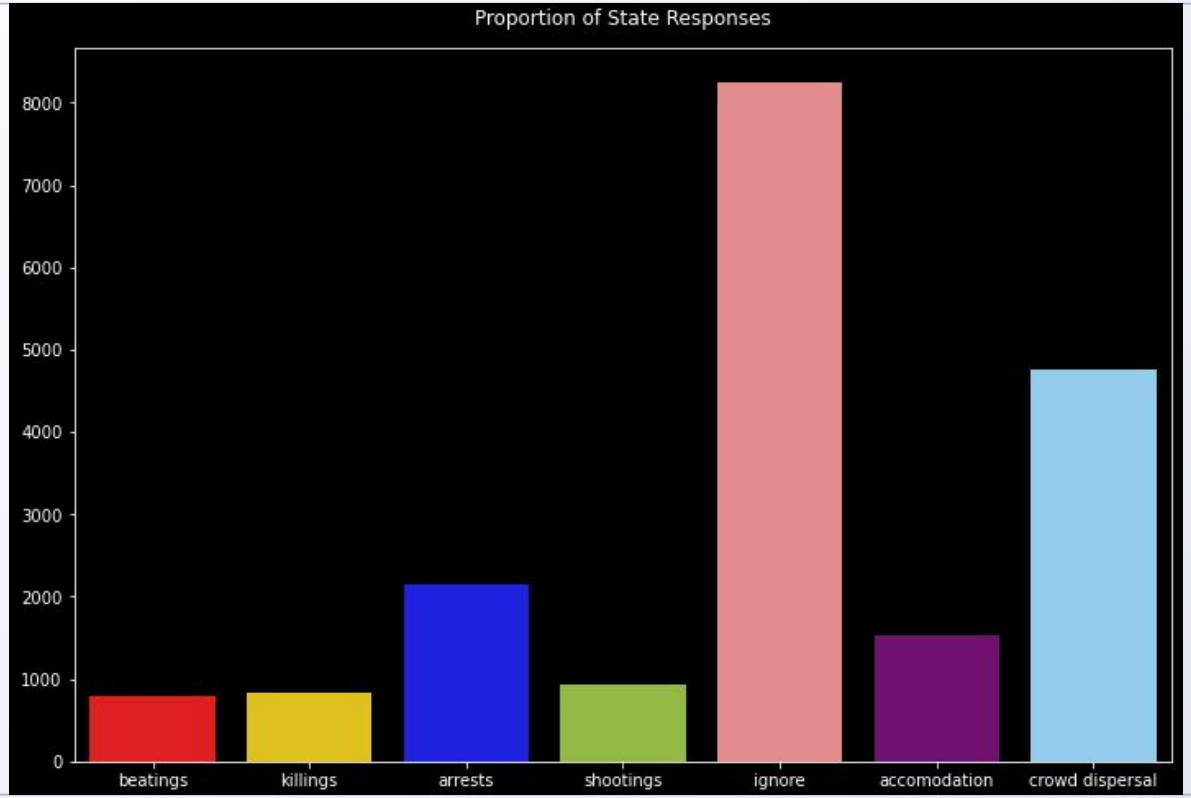
The Mass Mobilization (MM) data are an effort to understand citizen movements against governments, what citizens want when they demonstrate against governments, and how governments respond to citizens

CIA FACTBOOK

The World Factbook provides basic intelligence on the history, people, government, economy, energy, geography, communications, transportation, military, terrorism, and transnational issues for 266 world entities.

We started by creating a map showing protests around the world.
We then made another map showing the rate that protesters' demands were met.
We also graphed the Final outcome of protests globally as percentage.

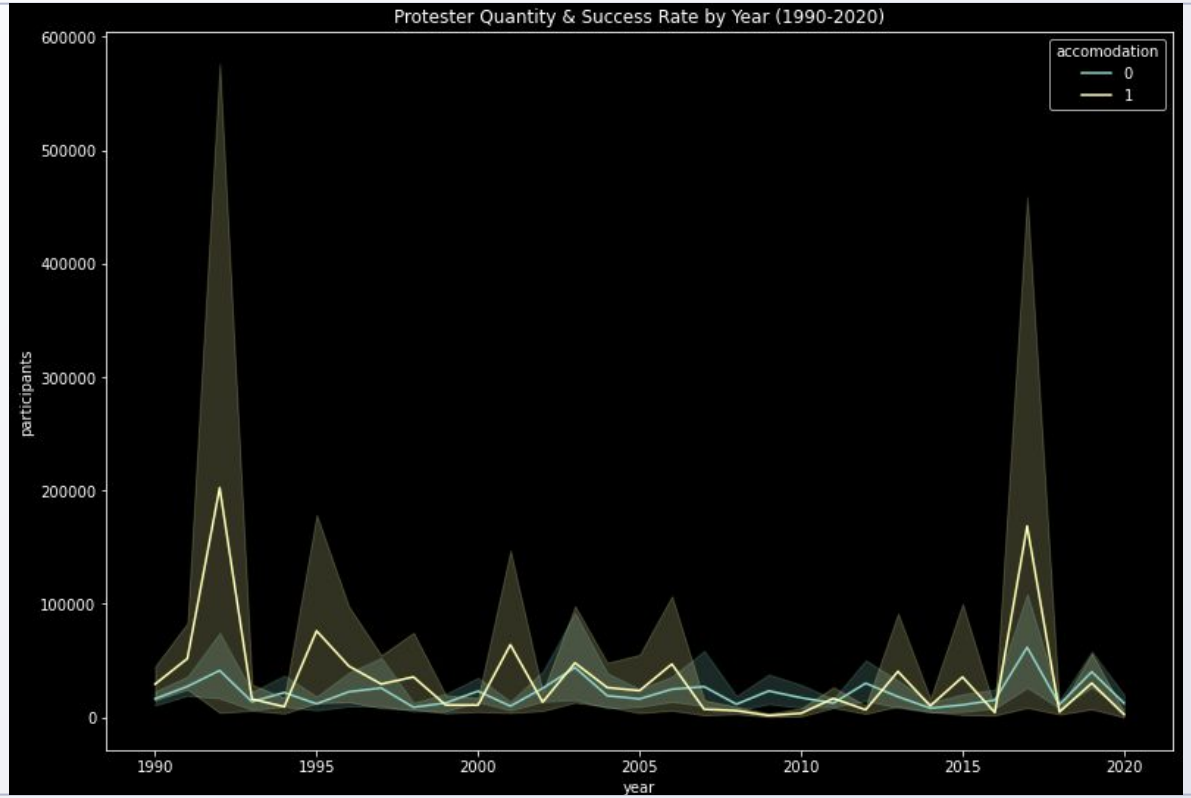
Proportion of State Responses



Success:

Accommodation of demands, indicated by reports that authorities met with protest leadership and demand was met or demands taken up in a formal meeting

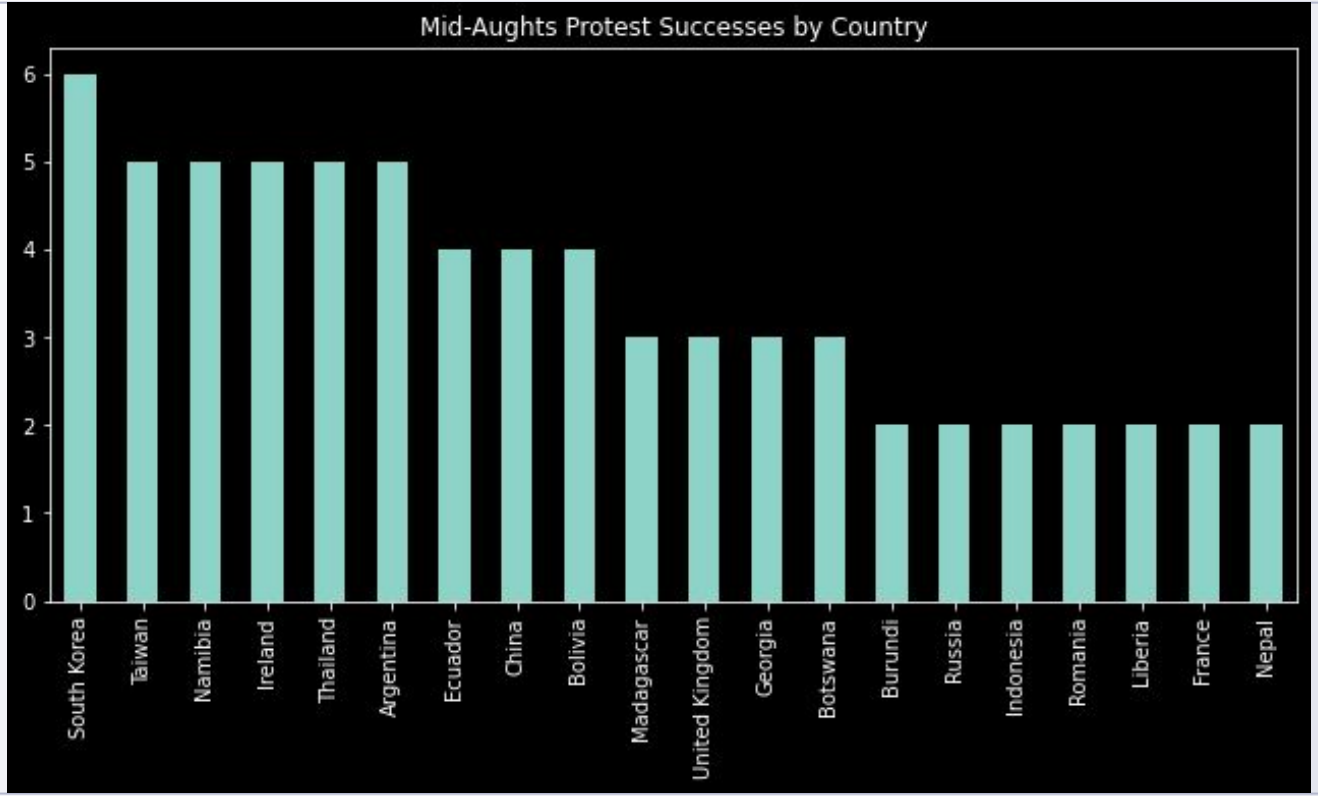
Protester Quantity & Success Rate by Year



Protester Quantity & Success Rate by Year

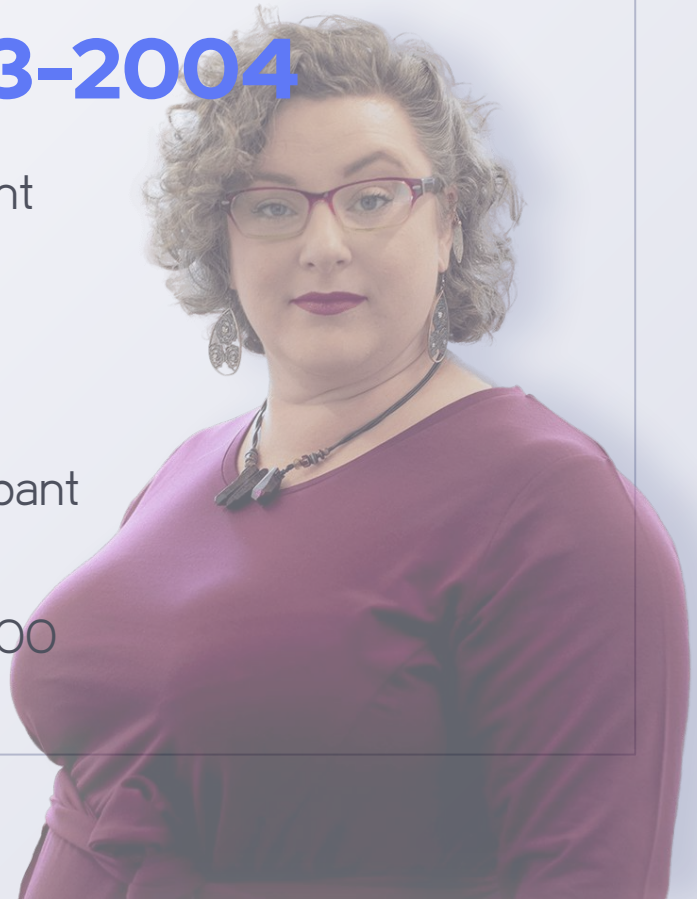
- Around 2003 even split of protests that were accommodated
- Early 1990s and around 2017 had most accommodations
- 2006 - 2012 had mostly unsuccessful protests

Successful Protests 2003–2004



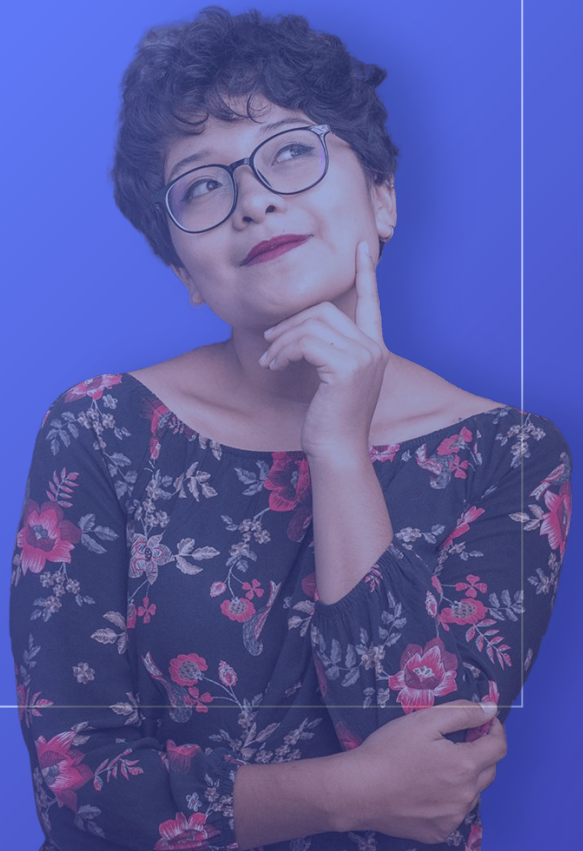
Successful Protests 2003-2004

- Korean farmers vs. free trade agreement with Chile. Strong rural opposition.
- Disputed election in Taiwan
- Namibia, drought relief, AIDS, women's demonstration against rape, abuse, rampant drug addiction.
- Ireland - "tractorcade". Participants: 2,000 tractors.



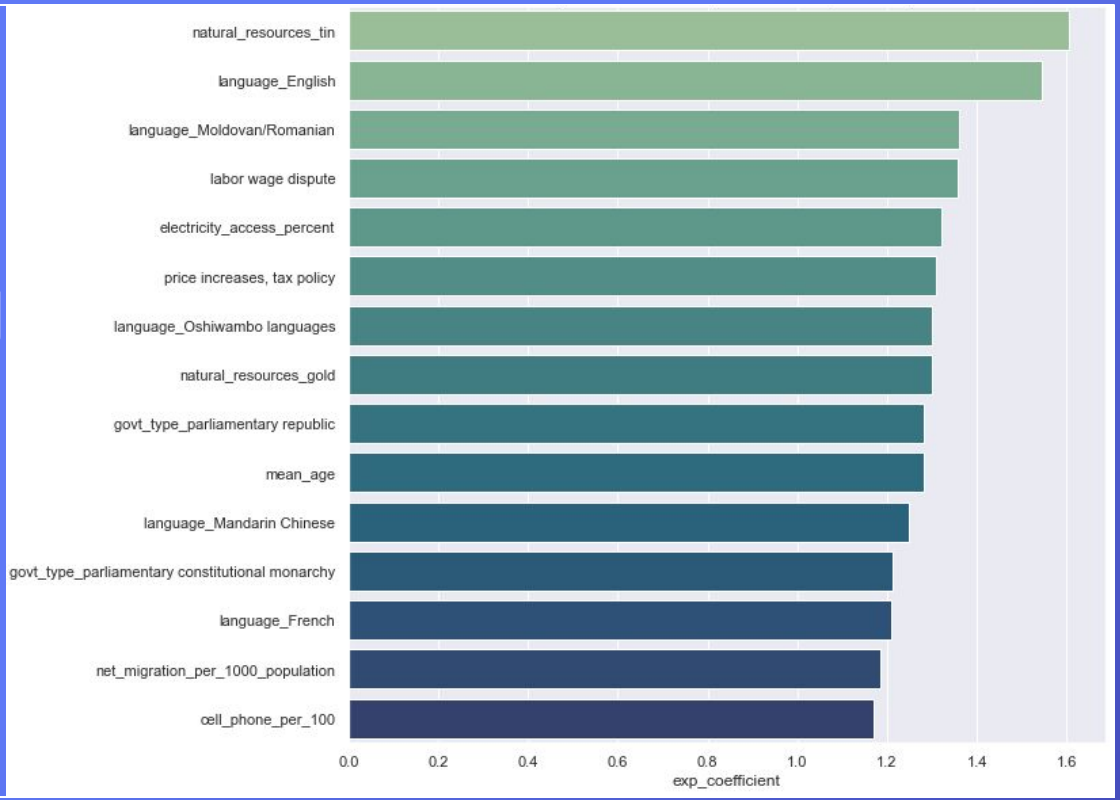
Logistic Regression

To keep interpretability, 94% accuracy



Baseline: Only 10% of protests were successful

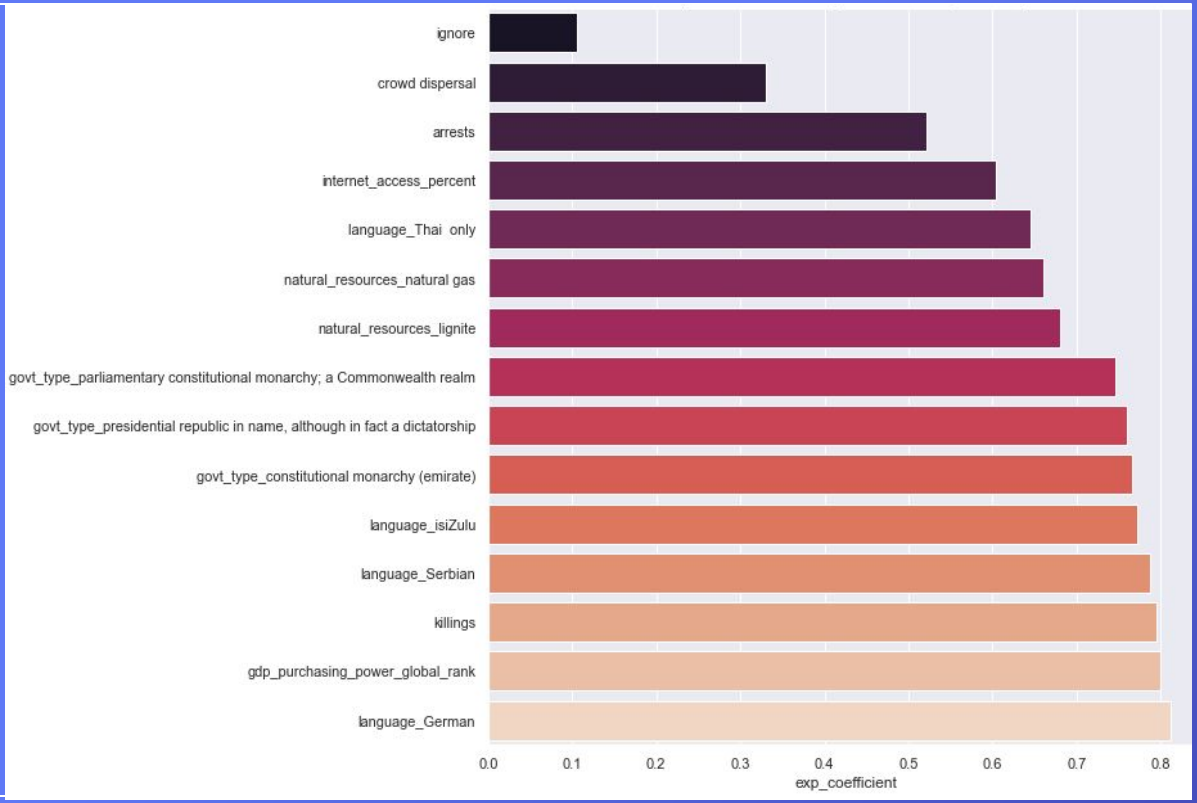
Top 15 contributing factors to protest success



3 things to remember

- Wage Disputes are the most successful type
- Tax policy is next most successful type
- Get cell phones to protesters

Bottom 15 factors to protest success



Top 3 things to avoid

- Being ignored by government
- Crowd dispersal by government
- Arrests by government

Getting the message out through cell phones and the internet is key.

We don’t only want success at any cost.

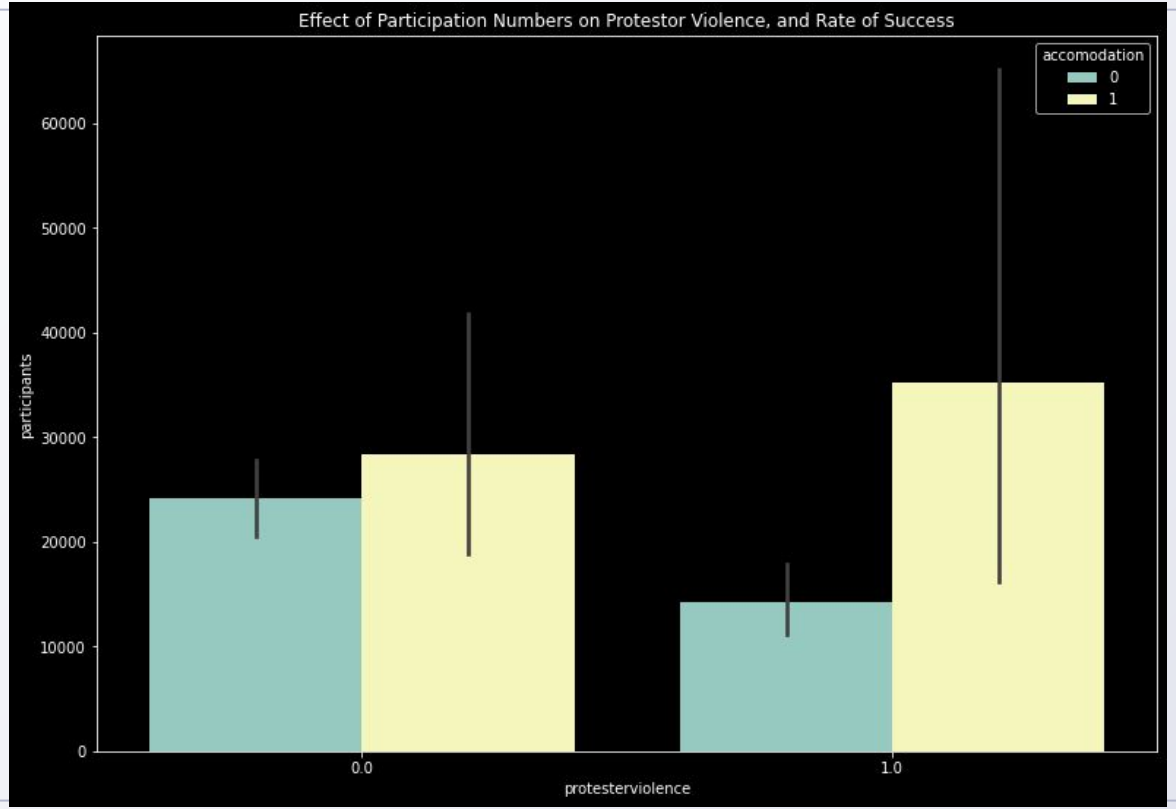
Recurrent Neural Net

91% accuracy

RNN HYPOTHESIS:

- Current protests could be influenced by recent past protests
- However, RNN did worse than Logistic Regression in accuracy.
- Protests probably not dependant on the previous events

Protester Quantity & Violence



Protester Quantity & Violence

- Larger protests less likely to get violent
- Violent protests more likely to get desired outcome

Recommendations

- Natural Resources & Language of a country are strong indicators of success
- Being ignored, crowd dispersal, & arrests by the government tend to lead to failure
- Types of protests that are successful depend on the region

We're in this together

Allocate resources wisely in the struggle for human rights.

- Here you have a list of items
- And some text
- But remember not to overload your slides with content

Your audience will listen to you or read the content, but won't do both.

You can also split your content

White

Is the color of milk and fresh snow, the color produced by the combination of all the colors of the visible spectrum.

Black

Is the color of ebony and of outer space. It has been the symbolic color of elegance, solemnity and authority.

In two or three columns

Yellow

Is the color of gold, butter and ripe lemons. In the spectrum of visible light, yellow is found between green and orange.

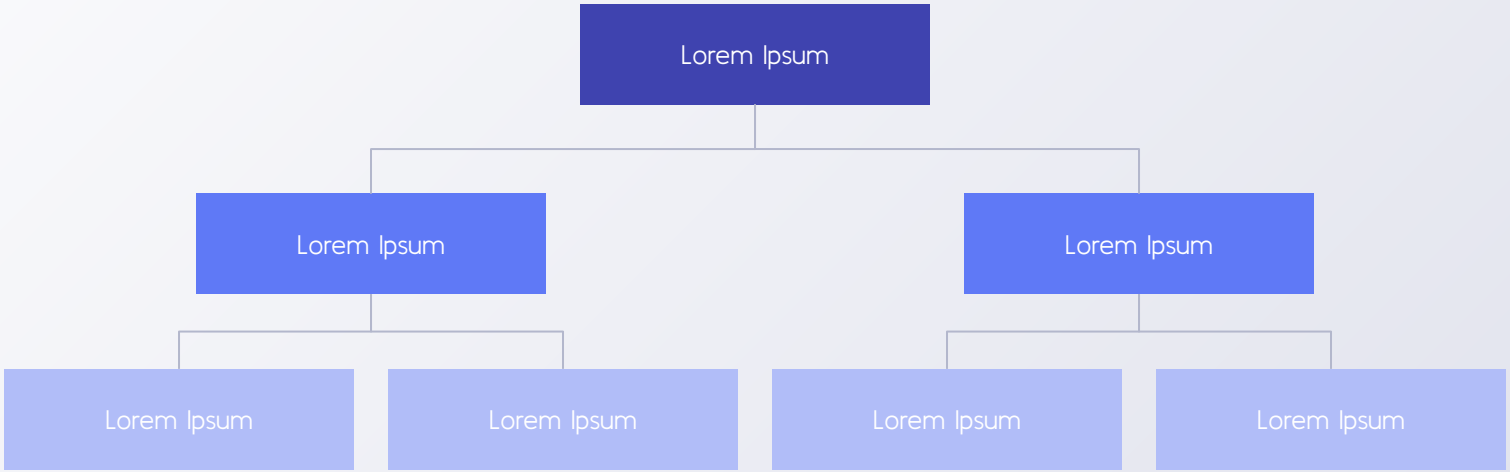
Blue

Is the colour of the clear sky and the deep sea. It is located between violet and green on the optical spectrum.

Red

Is the color of blood, and because of this it has historically been associated with sacrifice, danger and courage.

Use diagrams to explain your ideas



And tables to compare data

SlidesCarnival icons are editable shapes.

This means that you can:

- Resize them without losing quality.
- Change fill color and opacity.
- Change line color, width and style.

Isn't that nice? :)
